

awards

after a successful validation procedure and confirmation by the jury the certificate

The products successfully passed a complex examination procedure regarding ecological sustainability – which is supervised by an independent, international scientific sustainability institute.

The products receive this award with approval by an independent jury and are thus entitled to use the seal for all communication purposes until 31. December 2022.

This is a registered and protected EU certification mark for ecological sustainability with an independent, transparent and neutral testing procedure!
